

Julio Velarde Flores

Governor, Banco Central de Reserva del Perú

Academic background

Bachelor in Economics, Universidad del Pacífico, Lima, Peru, 1974.

Master of Arts in Economics, Brown University, USA., 1977.

Ph.D (c) in Economics, Brown University, USA, 1978.

Economics Advanced Studies, Institute for World Economics in Kiel, Germany, 1990.

Professional experience

Governor, Banco Central de Reserva del Peru, October 2006 to date.

Chief Executive Officer, Latin American Reserve Fund, 2004 to October 2006.

Director, Banco Central de Reserva del Peru, 1990-1992 and 2001-2003.

Dean of the Faculty of Economics, Universidad del Pacífico, 2003.

Senior Research and Professor, Department of Economics, Universidad del Pacífico, from 1986 to 2003.

Research and consulting jobs

Universidad del Pacífico, "The determination of interest rates in a dollarized economy: The case of Peru", from January to December 2000.

International Development Research Center, Canada, "The effects of the international crisis on the Peruvian economy 1997-1999: Lessons and economic policy implications", from January to December 1999.

Universidad del Pacífico, "The effects of international financial crisis on the Peruvian economy", from January to December 1999.

Universidad del Pacífico, "Real exchange rate behavior and capital inflows: Peru 1990-1997", from January to December 1998.

Superintendency of Banking and Insurance, "Study on the performance of consumer credit in the Peruvian financial sector", From January to October 1998.

Publications & reports

"Effects of the international financial crisis on the Peruvian economy 1997-1998: lessons and economic policy implications", Working Paper Series, CIUP, 2001.

"Financial sector reform and capital market development in Peru", CIUP, 1995.

"Macroeconomic stabilization and its effects on the exchange rate in Peru", CIUP, 1994.

"The dispersion of access to financial services: the case of Peru." IDB 1994.

"The stabilization program in Peru: assessment for 1991-1993". CIUP, 1994.